

FREE THE FUN

In 1929 Williamson Park was gifted to the families of Whangamata by the Williamson family forever. This gift is now under threat. Our free access to the beautiful park is limited by commercialisation. A fence is now required to enclose the fun for any event that attracts more than 500 people.

The Thames Coromandel District Council are now inviting public submissions on the proposed land use consent application. Have your say with the use of our template, or alternatively, click the link below to make your own, unique submission.

Help us stop the commercialisation of Williamson Park and free the fun.
